What Texas Tastes Like

In a global mélange of flavors and seasonings, can you really capture tastes of one American state? You can if it's Texas—as Dianna Howard, the founder of Texas Traditions-Culinary Folk Art, proves through her line of food products. Elegantly packaged jellies, seasonings, dip mixes, and mustards reflect the culinary heritage of the state with ingredients such as prickly pear, mesquite bean, and jalapeño. Each item comes with recipe suggestions that encourage meals at home. “Part of our mission,” says Dianna, “is to create greater awareness of the importance of gathering around the table, a priceless act that strengthens families for a lifetime.” For more information and to order, visit www.texas traditions.com, or call 1-800-547-7062.
